A Secret Message Received at the State Department.

ROYALISTS DOWN IN THE MOUTH They Do Not Seem to Be Hopeful

of the Queen's Restoration. THURSTON COMPLICATES MATTERS

He Spoke Too Soon, and Has Put the Administration at Washington in a Bad Humor with Him.

San Francisco, Cal., November 13.-The steamer China, which left Honolulu No vember 7th, arrived in port this morning. Her officers report that all was quiet when they left. The steamer left Honolulu on the 7th instant, making the trip in five days, fourteen*hours and twenty minutes, which is the fastest time ever made between Honolulu and San Francisco. Among her pas is Admiral Skerrett, who was relieved at Honolulu by Rear Admiral Irwin.

Minister Albert S. Willis arrived on the Minister Willis was to present his credentials to President Dole the day vessel left. His intended address had already been submitted to the president in order to enable him to prepare his reply. Its contents are kept strictly secret. Willis's special communication to the pro-visional government would follow later, possibly in time to be reported by the mail of the 11th. The government party is confident that the Washington policy is to maintain a white man's government with no possibility of reviving the native monarchy. The royalists betray great depression, but in circulating among the native The royalists betray great deprespopulace they boast that the queen is to be immediately restored by Mr. Willis.

A Cipher Message from Ho Washington, November 13.—The state department today received a communication from Honolulu, telegraphed from San Fran-It arrived by the steamer China early this morning. It is written in the navy department cipher. Experts were set to work upon the dispatch in the afternoon and labored over it for several hours After securing the substance of this official unication, Secretary Gresham took a copy of it out to Woodley for a conference over the matter with President Cleveland. Nothing was given out from the state department during the afternoon as to the substance of the dispatch.

The Matter Discussed. F. P. Hasting, secretary of the Hawaiian legation, was shown the Associated Press dispatch from San Francisco containing the news of Minister Willis's arrival in Honolulu and his appointment to pre-sent his credentia's to President Dole. This news was obviously a great relief to the mind of the members of the legation. They declined to talk about the matter as usual, but the satisfaction expressed at the presentation by Minister Willis of his credentials to President Dole suggest ed that they might have feared that the minister would be found to have been accredited to the queen.

The plan of the Hawaiian representatives evidently is to stand rigidly on the rights they have acquired by the recognition of their government. Minister Thurston touched the marrow of their hopes when he said yesterday, in Chicago, that any empt to overturn the present governmen a foreign power would be an act o An act of war requires the consent or declaration of congress. Congress undoubtedly, take up the subject of Hawaii in some way immediately upon assembling in December. The fight, it is said, will be made on the administration policy, on this line, that it has declared war without the consent of congress, and has therein done an unlawful act. What effect it would have on this proposed policy, if the present government should peacefully yield to the persuasions of the American minister, is also discussed. The question involved in whether so peaceful a proceeding could be regarded as an act of war. It is argued that it would be an act of aggression on a foreign power, none the less because the power peacefully yielded to the threat of such an overwhelmingly superior force.

to those of diplomatic experience how the American minister accredited to the Hawaiian government can immediately, upon presenting his credentials, set about to destroy that government. This gives rise to many surmises, such as that the real policy to be pursued by the state de-partment has not hitherto been announced at all, but that Secretary Gresham's re port- to the president was simply designed to give opportunity to sound public senti-ment on the subject. It is not at all probable that this is true, but it shows the policy of the Gresham report is considered as entirely extraordinary, and incredulity and speculations cluster about it. There is a shrewd surmise in Washington that the restoration of Queen Lilinokalani to the throne must be followed by the entire withdrawal of the influence of the United States; but that, with the work of the last administration once undone, a protectorate may be esablished over the monarchy.

One clear and certain result of the pres ent incident would seem that annexation will never be proffered to the United States by the Hawaiians again. If there is ever to be annexation, the movement will originate in this country.

MAY SEND HIM EACK TO HAWAIL

The Minister of the Provisional Government Said to Have Offended the Administration. Washington, November 13.-Officials in the navy department say they have no news from Honolulu by the sterner that has arrived at San Francisco. Secretary Gresasserts that he has nothing to say on the Hawaiian question, and declines to either affirm or deny reports that are offered him for corroboration or denial. Officials in both departments, in fact, manifest a lively interest in all that can be told them by newspaper men or news received. Soon after the reports of news having been re-cieved from Honolulu reached the departent, Secretary Gresham harried over to the navy department and had a very brief interview with Secretary Herbert, which nay have been only an inquiry as to whether his department had any news to commucate. Some expressions by the Hawaiian rning, are said to have gi n offense to administration, and a rumo was about the Hawaiian repuntatives the have had their unquires gives active offense or not, their position is an anomalous one, representing as they do a government which the United States is willing to see deposed. A severnce of relation between the government and the legation would not be surprising.

A Report Is Going Around That Secretaries Smith and Morton Resigned.

Washington, November 13.-(Special.)-Phere is a report in town late tonight that there was a big row in the cabinet on Friday, and that Hoke Smith and Secretary Morton have resigned. TO INCREASE THE GOLD RESERVE.

Plan of the New York Banks to Keep the Reserve at the Legal Limits.

Washington, November 13,-A plan has just been perfected whereby the gold re-serve of the treasury may be increased to its legal limit of $100,000,000. This is to be accomplished by means of an understanding with the banks of New York, whereby they are to increase the proportion of gold in their deposits with the New York btreasury to cover the certified checks that are made by importers in payment of customs duties. It is the system now in vogue for the banks to keep special desits at the subtreasury for this use, and heretofore the gold has not averaged more than 1 per cent. The bulk of payments are made in treasury notes. As the deficit in the gold reserve is now only $15,000,000, and the associated banks of New York have on hand fully $90,000,000. it is thought that this scheme, which is a result of the recent visit of the secretary to New York, recent visit of the secretary to New York, will be carried through.

None of the officials of the treasury department are willing to discuss the reports that the gold reserve is to be strengthened by the assistance of the New York banks, which, it is said, will release their gold to make payments for custoins dues. This reticence to takking applied also to Secretary Carlisle, who, when shown the published statements on the subject, said he had nothing to make public, but intimated if the New York bankers saw fit to discuss the master it was their privilege to do so. if the New York bankers saw fit to discuss the master it was their privilege to do so.
Such an arrangement as that contemplated the officials say could be entered upon by Mr. Jordan, the assistant treasurer, at New York, who would not necessarily feel it obligatory on himself to communicate the fact to the treasury department.
There are reasons for believing that it is very probable that Mr. Jordan has entered

IN MEMORY OF JUDGE BLATCHFORD. Resolutions Passed by the United States Supreme Court. Washington, November 13.—The memory of the late Justice Blatchford was honored at the session of the United States supreme ourt today. A set of resoluions, read by Attorney General Olney, was offered by the bar of the court and adopted. When the resolutions had been adopted, Attorney General Olney made an address in which al Coult a abi man and a judge. The attorney general poke of the loss sustained, not only by the udiciary, but by the entire community in death of Judge Blatchford and said l was the model of a competent, well-trained

When Attorney General Olney completed his remarks. Chief Justice Fuller made a reply in behalf of the court. The chief said in part:

"To Mr. Justice Blatchford, the discharging of duty was an impulse and toil, a habit; and to a thorough training as a scholar and large professional practice, a and varied knowledge of the law. wide and varied knowledge of the law, a keen and discriminating intellect and an indiminatable patience he added the transcendent capacity of taking trouble. The volume and extent of work he was enabled to accomplish during twenty-six years of judivial life, therefore, should occasion no surprise. WORLD'S FAIR EXHIBITORS COMPLAIN

Of the Delay in Awarding the Medals-St. Gauden's Design.

Washington, November 13.-There is much complaint among exhibitors over the delay in awarding the world's fair medals to the successful competitors. Congressmen have received numerous letters on the subject, but inquiry at the treasury department does not reveal any indications that the medals will be ready for distribution for several months. As many of the exhibitors expect to make the most of their nedals in an advertising way, some of medas in an advertising way, some of them desiring to incorporate the design in new trademarks to be adopted, they com-plain that the delay will rob them of much of the commercial advantage which they ex-pected to reap in return for the heavy expense involved in making a world'a fair exhibit. The design prepared by St. Gaudens for the official medals is now here, but the contract for manufacturing the but the contract for manufacturing nedals has not yet been awarded, and it is medals has not yet been awarded, and it is still even uncertain whether the work may not be done by the United States mint. The plan of the treasury officials, which is very detailed and contemplates medals of elegant workmanship, would require four or five months, as it would necessitate the stamping of some of the medals four or five hundred times. But n cheaper process of manufacture has been suggested which five hundred times. But a cheaper process of manufacture has been suggested which world make it possible to turn out the 25,000 medals in a few weeks. This does not meet with much favor, however, and, unless the indignant exhibitors bring the matter to the attention of congress, it is not likely the medals will be ready before next summer. The treasury department suggests that the delay is attributable to Mr. J. Boyd Thatcher, or the designer, who should have furnished the design months ago, in order that the manufacturer might have begun at a much earlier date.

The Lawyer Was Defending Frank Porterfield and Got Excited.

TRIED TO DICTATE TO THE COURT Porterfield's First Case Resulted in a Mistrial, the Jury Remaining Out Over Sunday-Several Indictments Yet.

Nashville, Tenn.. November 13 .- (Spesial.)-Sparrell Hill, one of the attorneys Frank Porterfield in the bank case that has engrossed the attention of the federal court for two weeks past, was found guilty of contempt of court today. and, after having apologized to the co for the personal offense, was fined $500, which he at once paid. Hill had told Judge Sage that he should not run over the jury which was unable to agree. Then Judge Sage told him he was guilty of contempt of ourt. Later. Hill offered to explain, but Judge Sage told him he had been guilty of a trick, and no explanation was neces sary. Hill denounced this statement as

Today, United States District Judges Lurton and Key took seats on the bench beside Judge Sage, and Judge Lurton at once read an order to the effect that Sparrell Hill be ordered to appear at the bar of the court. The facts of Saturday were then recited, and it was charged that Hill bad said, "in a violent and threatening manner, that he was there to see that the judge did not run over the jury, or words of like import and effect, thereby attempting to defy and intimidate the court, and un duly and improperly to influence the jury, and for that, immediately thereafter, when reprimanded by the court for such con duct and language, he used language mor. violent, and further and more in contempt. and tending and intending to intimidate and interfere with the lawful authority of the judiciary."

Hill was further ordered to answer charges at the afternoon session. Mr. Hil's answer was presented, saying that, laboring under excitement, he did hastily make the remark about the judge running over the jury, but had immediately expressed his regret, and, further, that he was angered exceedingly by the judge's offensive remark that he had no thought of intimidating the judge or defying his authority. In addition to this, General Luke Wright, Mr. Hill's associate in defense of Mr. Porterfield, made a brief statement emphasizing the fact that Mr. Hill spoke under excitement and without premeditation.

The judges retired to their chamber, returning after a few minutes. Judge Lurton then announced the decision, saying that nothing more unfortunate had occurred since he had been on the bench. When the honor of the court was questioned by a trained lawyer, the offense was seriously aggravated. The remark that the judge chould not run over the jury was contempt of the highest order, and could not be wipe: out by retraction. The court had left all personality out of the case in considering the matter, but the court must take notic of the contempt, especially as it was given to a stranger who had won the highest commendation for forbearance, justice and learning. The judgment was that Mr. Hill pay a fine of $500. The fine was paid and the court adjourned.

OBJECTION TO OUTSIDERS

Acting as Land Officers Was the Chief Complaint from Oklahoma. Washington, November 13.—Captain James S. Hasler, formerly chief clerk of the interior department, and now receiver of the land office at Euid, Okla., is in Washington. He brings a new version of the complaints about the opening of the Cherokee strip. The opening, he says, was generally satisfactory, and the complaints come from those who desire to make trouble and bring the administration into disrepute. Captain Hasler says that the chief omoters of dissatisfaction are a small faction of democrats who were angered because the land officers and other officials sent to Oklahoma and the strip were from outside the territory. The sending of outside men, he says, broke up the schemes which they had formed to capture the best lands in the strip, and a number missed the opportunity of making money that the had anticipated. To these disappointed democrats were joined some republicans who were anxious to make political capital out of the affair, and this resulted in all the charges, complaints and call for investigation. He says the outcome will be a vindication of the course pursued by the

NOT AN ANARCHIST IN ALL ILLINOIS

The Governor Makes a Sweeping Declaration About His Constituents, Giving Them All a Good Name. Springfield, Ill., November 13.-Governor Altgeld was asked today if it was true that one of the conditions of the pardon of hould make no anarchistic speeches in the future, and he replied: "In granting pardons to Fielden, Sewab and Neebe, I did so because I thought them not guilty of the crime charged, and for which they were sentenced, and in so doing, I placed no conditions upon their pardons and made no such conditions as charged, namely, that they must make no more speeches regarding anarchy. You may say there are no anarchists in the entire state of Illinois; not one. If the newspapers would stop talking anarchy, the whole matter would never again be heard of. The laboring men in Chicago and other places are as good citizens as are in any state. That they have a right to their own views on all matters and are entitled to express the same as such must be con ceded by all citizens, and when such expressions are made, the same sould not be designated anarchistic speeches, thus placing the speakers in a wrong light. No. sir, there is not an anarchist in the great state of Illinois; not one," and with that the governor dismissed the subject. DANGER OF A NEW EPIDEMIC.

DOES NOT WORK

Birmingham Has a Police Commission but It Is a Farce.

MEMBERS SEEM NEVER TO AGREE.

The Board Was Appointed to Take th Force Out of Politics, but It Ls Worse Than Ever

Birmingham, Ala., November 13.—(Special.)—The last legislature passed a bill creating a police commission for Birmingham. It was patterned after the Atlanta police commission bill, the only radical difference being that the probate judge of this, Jefferson county, should name the commissioners instead of the city council, as in Atlanta. The mayor is not a member of the commission here. In the cam-paign for the democratic nomination for mayor last year, the opposing candidates were David Fox, the present mayor, who was the favorite of the laboring classes, and a well-to-do merchant of this city, and J. P. Mudd, a banker and an active young ss man. The canvass was an tremely hot one and much feeling was engendered. Fox was declared the nominee although his opponents alleged that the counting had not been fair. At this juncture the police commission bill was agitated and passed, Probate Judge Porter appointed the five police commissioners, one in sympathy with the administration and five against it, and the city administration promptly declined to turn over the force to them. The commission, of which J. P. Mudd was made chairman, elected a new force throughout, not in sympathy with the administration. Then ensued a fierce legal fight which went through several courts and which was finally setteld in the supreme court in favor of the commission. In the past few months, one of the commissioners, W. W. Boggan, changed his mind and went over to the side of the administration, making the proportion, two to three in favor of the anti-administration-Two reports are made on every measure, a majority and a minority report. What one faction favors the other con-demns. It has been a gee-haw game from the stant and every single meeting of the body has developed something new to fuss about.

A rule is that a meeting of the com-A rile is that a meeting of the commission must be held during the first week in each month. This week one of the three anti-administration members was out of the city and the other two would not attend, thereby preventing a quorum from being present. The two administration men met and wrote a note to Chairman Mudd asking him to call a meeting for the following night. He did so but the same pesult followed. Each day, or every other lay, has the same farce been repeated until the citizens are tired and disgusted. The ay, has the same farce been repeated until the citizens are tired and disgusted. The object of the commission was to take the pollete force out of politics, but it has put the force into the hottest of the fight.

The general belief is that the commission was conceived in order to weaken the power of the present administration, and Mr. Mudd's being made chairdan of it strengthens that theory. On the other hand the board of aldermen has shone everything in its power to harrass the Commission and to make it ridiculous in the

Saturday morning he put the lid of a to-bacco box under his clothes just over his breast, and several of his friends were invited to hit him as hard as they could vited to hit him as hard as they could drive. The invitation was accepted by several persons, who were ignorant of the existence of the concealed board, and there were a number of bruised knuckles and sprained wrists as a result of the joke. Later on, and before he had removed his board shield, Ragan had occasion to arrest a drunken negro, who, resisting arrest, drew his knife and attempted to carve the officer into mince meat. Remarkable to relate, every thrust of his knife struck the officer's concealed shield, which, no doubt, saved his life. The negro was finally jailed.

Augusta, Ga., November 13.—The report from Columbia that the radiroads in South Carolina oppose the 1-cent rate on Tuesdays and Thursdays granted the Augusta exposition and Georgia state fair are not stroggher correct. The Port Royal and Augusta radiroad and the Port Royal and Western Carolina declare their intention of giving the low rate. All the other roads in the Southern Radiway and Steamship Association have thoroughly advertised the rate and only two or three roads in South Carolina are opposing it. A meeting of the merchants of Augusta has been called at the exchange at noon tomorrow to Lanonnee the action of the roads in Carolina and there is even talk among the most indignant of a boycott of these roads. The Board of Arbitration.

Colonel Pope, secreary of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, has gone to New Lork, where he will attend the meeting of the board of arbitration of the association, which meets to consider some very weighty problems.

which meets to consider some very weighty problems.

One of the questions they are to decide is the cotton apportionment. It is well known that this has been a bone of centention all this fall and winter among the southern railroads. It now rests with the board of arbitration as to what percentage will be allowed the lines. It also exists with the board to say what shall be the differential with respect to the lines far dis ant from the cotton states and the lines negare. Again, it will be decided by the board as to the rates of exports through large parts outside of the southern states. All of these questions have considerable bearing upon the association just at present.

MR. COMER PRESENTS HIS REPORT

Savannah, Ga., November 13,-(Special. The directors of the Central Railroad and Banking Company held a meeting this morning in the office of Receiver Comer to hear the fifty-eight annual report of the operations of the road. The report covers the fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1892, and ending June 30, 1893. The report, of is made to the circuit court, as the road is in its hands, and Mr. Comer is its officer. Copies have already been sent to Justice Jackson-and Judge Speer for their consideration and approval. The directors, however, adopted the report as a report to the stockholders of the road and it will, within a week or two, be ready for distribution in pamphlet form. Below is a consolidated statement showing the earnings include new cars, new engines, tunnel re-pairs, etc. This reduces the earnings of the total Central system to $249,884.53. This confirms Mr. Comer's estimate that for several years the earnings have not been sufficient to keep up the property, pay fixed charges with interest and divi pay fixed charges with interest and dividends, in proportion to the gross earnings. The expenses charged to operations appear large, but the receiver states in his report that when the repairs and equipments are considered it is believed the cost of operation does not exceed that of other lines similarly situated. Among the work done upon the road-way and equipment was the purchase of ten thousand tons of steel rails. During the past year $3,194,269.84 has been borrowed by order of the court to take up the Speyer loan, the New York Mutual Life's loan, to pay the Georgia railroad lease deficit of $49,000 rentals and other items.

Georgia rannoad lease deacht of $45,000 rend-als and other items.

On January 1, 1887 the total amount of ob-ligations was $23,643,990, on which the fixed charges were $1,532,022.50. When the Obligations Increased. On March 4, 1892, the total obligations were $45,643,230.26, on which the fixed charges were $2,382,396.48, which is an increase of about $22,000,000 in the obligations of the road with a proportionate increase in the fixed were $2,382,386.48, which is an increase of about $22,000,000 in the obligations of the road with a proportionate increase in the fixed charges on them. The strange part of the matter is that a reference to the table, showing the net earnings in those years, shows a large decrease. While the obligations of the road have increased alarmings the earnings have been on the decrease and the receiver claims that for several years the Central has been unable to pay its operating expenses, fixed charges, interest, keep up the equipment and service of the road and pay dividends. The net earnings in 1887 were $2,304,684.06, and in 1891 $2,263,087.10. During the same time the number of miles operated increased from 1,343 to 1,838. Receiver Comer refers in his report to the fact that the past year has been a had one on account of the financial troubles and the consequent slow movement of the large staple articles of commerce. This, he says, coupled with the extremely low rates made by the commission, has had a tendency to make matters worse than they have ever been before. He refers to the arguments made before. ters worse than they have ever been been.

The refers to the arguments made been the commission when an advance in rates asked for in order that the roads of the might earn a fair profit on the bona fide said that after the matter had been fully presented to the commission a very slight advance was granted which, in the case of the Central, was hard, sufficient to pay the increased taxes which were put upon the road. The report gives also a scannary of the efforts that were made toward the reorganization of the property, and states the cause of the faliure as being due to too much opposition from certain factions, and also because it was not established the stock and security holders. He looks to improved financial conditions to render feasible such ubans as will place the company upon a substantial foundation.

IN MACON'S COURTS. Heavy Weight Lawyers Argue an Impor-

Macon, Ga., November 13.-(Special.)-The great legal battle over the mortgages held by the Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, opened in the superior court this morning. The style of the first case taken up was J. H. McTigh et al. vs. the Macon Construction Company et al., in the form of interventions filed by the Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company, of Baltimore. There are over twenty interven-tions to be heard and the probability is the whole week or at least the major portion of it, will be consumed in the trial of the Judge Bartlett being disqualified in the case, Judge Gamble, of Louisville, Ga., sat in the case. There was a notable array of distinguished lawyers around the tables when the case was called, and the courtroom was omfortably filled.

The First Feature.

The first feature of the case taken up was the demurrer of the railroad company to the plaintiff's petition for the foreclosure of the mortgage held against the defendant company's property on the ground that the railroad company the ground that the ranroad company had no right to mortgage property which it should acquire subsequent to the exe-cution of said mortgage.

Mr. Dessau, for plaintiffs, read a number of authorities to the effect that a railroad or a similar corporation may mortgage property to be subsequently acquired for the purpose of the construction of the road and in the very nature of things this is of-ten necessary that a sufficient amount of money may be secured at one time to under-

Lake and carry out the enterprise.

Judge Clifford Anderson, for the railroad company, argued that the charter of the Georgia Southern and Florida Railroad Company specifies the particular powers of said company to borrow money and that decisions based on the common law were not applicable to the case in question. The defendant's counsel argued that the clause in the charter conferring all the powers on the Georgia Southern and Florida Raifroad Company enjoyed by the Central company was not intended to apply to the power to borrow money, issue bonds, give mortgages and incur indebtedness as is sufficiently shown by the fact that as is sufficiently shown by the fact that there is a subsequent clause in the charter specifically prescribing these particular powers in this direction.

The funniest comic opera Atlanta has had in rears—and the best—is "The Isle of Cham-regue," in which Thomas Q. Seabrooke and his excellent company entertained the largest audience of the season.

Tom, his Co., and-Eivia, Pretty? Why, she's the prettiest, most vivacious, eleverest little woman comic opera has ever brought us. She may not be first in the bill of the show, but tike the original George, she is undoubtedly "first in the hearts of her countrymen." She charmed and fisci-mated everybody at the Grand last night, and if such a raing is possible, she made a perfect

As for Senbrooke—he is awfully funny. Every minute of his presence on the stage means a lough; everything he stays, everything he does is funny. He has been comical behe does is trainly. He has been comical be-fore—his General Knickerbocker we all thought couldn't be excelled; but it has been, and Pommery Sec is the fundiest creation on the comic opera stage. That may sound strong, but I mean to be emphatic. It is certainly true that nothing funnier than this creation has ever been seen on an Atlanta

But to begin at the beginning: The "Isle of Champagae" contains all the assentials of a perfect comic opera. The music is tuneful and darnty throughout. From the solo, "I'm Pommery II, the King," with which the king announces his identity, through to the concluding tonsi, "To Old Champagne," pretty catchy airs follow each other in quick succession. Especially dainty is "Oh, Dream of Life," as sung by Priscilla, Kissengen and chorus, while the duo of Sea grooke and Miss Orox, "Song of Ali Nations, in the last act, is clever and uproarious!

Kissengen and chorus, while the duo of Seabrooke and Miss Orox, "Sang of Ali Nations," in the last act, is clever and uproariously funny.

The libretto is exceedingly clever. The joint work of two such tatented fellows as Louis Harrison and Charles (Afred Byrne, it was natural to expect it to be clever, and it is replete with good bits and gentine fun. The island run to seed because no drink is known there save champagne and saved at last by the discovery of the liftherto unknown beverage—water. This is the basis of the story. And it is worked out so as to sustain the humor to the end. The Mnes are bright and crast and uticely devoid of anything like the chestaut flavor. The scene in the mansoleum, where the king is buried alive with his wife, who is shauming death, and where he whiles the time away by realing the pickes from an old-time "Joe Miler Joke Book," is one of the most lubicrous imaginable.

The company is one of the mest complete that has ever been brought south. The principals are all artists; the chorus, large in polat of numbers, is made up of exceptionally traity glas, who are excellently trained. The supporting company is strong through and the parist, is by no means the least pleasing feature. Indeed, the dancing is excellent.

The supporting company is strong throughout. Mr. Walter Alen, himself an exceedingly elever comedian, seems rather out of place as the prime minister, as he has little opportunity to site day his takents. Mr. Sheedarn, the prime, adds greatly to the music strength of the company. Miss tooke as the queen and Messrs, Collins and Watte as the queen and Messrs, Collins and Watte as the gray help along for funemaking. The gir's are all pretiy—at least, prester than usual—and in every department the company is strong. strong.
It is the best comic opera we have had in years, and it is unsloubtedly worth seeing.

EARLY NEXT MAY.

The Date for Atlanta's Semi-Centennial Fixed Last Night.

THE SECOND WEDNESDAY IN MAY

A Most Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night The Members Talk Over Old Times. Programme for the Celebration.

The second Wednesday in May is the date definitely selected for the celebration of Atlanta's semi-centennial.

This was agreed upon at a meeting of the Pioneers held at the courthouse last night, which was notable for the enthusiasm displayed and the spirit of old times manifested. Speeches of the most enthusiastic character were made. The celebration was given a great shove forward, and the Pioneers parted in the best of humor.

The proposition that the second Wednes day in May be selected as the beginning of the semi-centennial festivities came from the committee of three appointed to take the matter of arranging of dates . in hand. There was some little discussion, but all agreed that it was the very best date that could possibly be settled upon, and the recommendation of the committee was adopted.

Then came speeches from the members upon the scope of the celebration. Colonel E. Y. Clarke made a most telling speech, favoring an extensive blow-out. He said that it possessed a great significance for Atlanta, and that the city should not stop at less than $25,000 in making a great and memorable occasion. He said the celebration should be made as elaborate as possible, and that no expense should be spared.

He was followed by Colonel Calhoun, Mr Anthony Murphy, Mr. G. W. Sciple and Mr. E. W. Hunnicutt, every one of whom spoke on the same line. They advocated a big celebration which would be worthy of Atlanta and typify its-great growth. The Pioneers talked about the details of the celebration, also offering numerous suggestions as to appropriate floats, etc. A committee was designated to prepare paper for the press, setting forth the scope and meaning of the celebration. This paper will be ready for the press in a few days. Colonel Calhoun had prepared a sketch of several floats which he regarded as appropriate, and, at the request of the members, he read it. It contained many valuable suggestions, which will, no doubt, be incorporated in the programme by the committee on arrangements. The meeting of the association was unanimously voted the best the Pioneers have ever held. It abounded with good humor and bright speeches. The enthusinsm displayed gives a fair indication of the interest felt in the great celebration, and the work done and being done by the committees insures the success of the enterprise in which every Atlantian feels a

The committees appointed several weeks ago to raise funds have met with gratifying success, and in the time intervening before the celebration occurs the amount will be many times multiplied.

LAWS LAX ENOUGH.

Georgia's Legislators Do Not Want Divorces Made Easier.

THEY WILL NOT MAKE THIS A DAKOTA

The Doorkeeper Misunderstood the Visi of the Secretary of the Senate, and Announced a Message.

Shall Georgia become a Dakota for the benefit of those who are weary of the mat-

This was the way in which the case was put yesterday when the bill of Mr. Lewis, of Milton, amending the divorce laws of the state, was up for final action.

Under the old law it is necessary for any on bringing snit for divorce to have resided for six months in the county in which the suit is filed. This must also be the county in which the defendant to the action to defeat the suit is for the party against whom it is brought to move at least once every six months. This makes it necessary to file a new case, and the process can be prolonged indefinitely by the simple expedient of getting over the county line.

Mr. Lewis's bill was designed to repeat this troublesome clause and simply make it necessary for the applicant to have resided in the state for one year.

The committee who had the bill under advisement reported fovorably upon it but suggested that the period of residence was months. An amendment to that effect was read, and the house not being especially interested in the subject, gave a listless as-

This brought Mr. Harrison, of Quitman, to his feet and he made a ringing speech

"Don't turn the state into a Dakota!" he urged. "Don't make Georgia a stamping ground for dissatisfied persons all over the country who want to get a divorce. If you pass this bill and let it become tecessary to reside only six months in the state as the sole requirement, I predict that all your border counties will become colonized by would-be divorcees."

A Human Message

A rather laughable blunder was made during the morning in which Secretary Cabaniss, of the enate, was the unconscious central figure. Mr. Cabaniss had crossed over from ther side to have a little that with the cabat with t over from the side to have a little that with the Ker Atkinson, a member being tem na in the chair. He walked in and straight down the isle to the desk. The doorkeeper observed him enter, and supposing that a communication was being sent there, followed him down the isle and called out in a stentorian voice, "Message from the senate."

Mr. Cabanies was at that time in the idst of his conversation with the speaker and paid no attention to the announcement, and paid no attention to the announcement, but business stopped and everybody listened to hear what the message might be.

There was a long and careful pause, and Mr. Cabaniss happening to look around, found himself the cynosure of all eyes. Then the situation dawned on him and he laughed heartily. "Why, I have no message," he said. "I just ran over to tell Arkinson a story."

Business then proceeded

Business then proceeded.

Three novelties of the morning's session were the bills introduced by Mr. Mosiey, of Cobb. The first, making life insurance policies taxable, provoked a good deal of talk after the adjournment, and will, no doubt, be the subject of a battle on the floor when it finally comes up for passage.

The next bill is part and parcel of the legislative series introduced at this session for the purpose of putting an end to the common practice of settling seduction cases by marriage, and then deserting the woman. There are hundreds of victims of this wrong in Georgia, and the farce of marriage has made them really worse off than they were before. If the legislation now in committee rooms becomes law it will go rather hard with these gay Lothards in the future. Mr. Mosley's bill makes it a felony to desert a woman under such circumstances, fixing the negative at these circumstances. ony to desert a woman under such ony to desert a woman under such mstances, fixing the penalty at two s' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Year's imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The third bill adds the lunacy of either party to the statutory grounds for divorce, providing that such aberation is incurable and has existed for two or more years. Herefofore a husband or wife might be tied to a lunatic for life, and have no legal grounds for a separation.

Mr. Stapleton, of Sumter, was given consent to withdraw his bill to establish a city court in Sumter county.

The house then considered the bill of Mr. West, of Hancock, to amend the code so as change the embezzlement by any county treasurer of the public funds from a misdemeanor to a felony and fixing the penalty at from five to twenty years in prison. The committee amended by reducing the minimum penalty from five to two years, and this was, upon motion, agreed to. A year was then taken and the bill passed.

minimum penalty from five to two years, and this was, upon motion, agreed to. A vote was then taken and the bill passed.

Next on the calendar was the bill of Mr. Lewis, of Milton, fixing the time of residence of applicants for divorce. The committee recommended a substitute, making the time of residence in the state six, instead of twelve months. This was adopted. Mr. Lewis explained that the purpose of his bill was to repeal the old clause, making a six months' residence in the county necessary. Considerable discussion followed, and Mr. King, of Fulton, introduced an amendment changing the time of state residence back from six to twelve months, as originally put. It was discovered that this amendment contained some technical errors and the bill was tabled to give time to re-prepare it.

Mr. Fleming explained that this bill was merely to correct an abuse in the constant practice of prisoners charged with petty offenses in demanding indictment for the purpose of delay. He stated that the law did not require an indictment for misdemeanor and the present system put the county to an enormous expense.

Mr. Battle, of Muscogee, asked to be relieved from voting on the ground that it was bad policy to discriminate between the rights of defendants.

A running debate ensued in which Mr. Hodge, of Bibb, opposed the bilk, and Mr. King, of Fulton, spoke in favor of its passing.

Mr. Battle, of Muscogee, moved that the bill be temporarily tabled and with Mr. Fleming's consent, this was done.

Mr. Lewis's bill providing for the republication of the Georgia Reports from the sixty-sixth to the sewenty-sixth volume inclusive was then taken up by the house as a committee of the whole. A favorable report was made on the passage of the bill and upon a vote being taken the meas-

Mr. King, of Fulton, here asked permission to take the Lewis divorce bill from the table. This was agreed to and a substitute prepared by Mr. King was read. The next full was that of Mr. King, of Fulton, to amend the code relative to the selection of grand and traverse juyors. As the law now stands jury commissioners in making up the jury lists are confined to the tax receiver's books. It often happens that the names of good men are thus not accessible, owing to the fact that they own no property. The tax books close sometimes later than the selection of jurors and it is a common practice to defer pay-

The bill removes these restrictions and allows the jury commissioners to choose any good citizen of the county whom they may know. On vote the bill was passed.

Mr. Martin's bill to pay the balance of $460.99 due on printing the report of the state geologist was read for the last-time and Mr. O'Neill, of Fulton, was called to the chair while the house considered it as a committee of the whole. It was finally reported upon and passed.

Must Give Up the Land.

Senator Reese pushed his new law, with respect to the giving of deeds to land for securing a debt, through the senate yesterday. This bill requires that when a man gives a deed to another to secure a debt and fails to pay the debt on time the land must be sold by the sheriff and the amount due taken from the proceeds. The giver of the deed can have no recourse to filing a bill to get his land back by paying the money for it. This is an important bill and the senators consider it a wise one.

STUART'S Gin and Buchu CURES

Kidney Diseases!

For the last few years kidney disease has been rapidly on the increase.
Insidious in its approach—alarming in its consequences—this terrible scourge has cut down some of the brightest intellects of the age. Many suffer from kidney trouble long before they are aware of the true character of their complaint.
In disease, any neglect or delay is dangerous. This is peculiarly true of all kidney affections. As soon as the first symptoms appear, treatment should commence.
Dull pain in the back, weakness over the loins or tenderness upon pressure, scanty or reddish urine, cloudy after standing, brick dust deposit, albumen or uric acid reaction, smarting or burning pains in passing water, etc., etc., are danger signals, and should be promptly heeded.

Stuart's Gin and Buchu is the remedy you need. By its use you do not have to lie up for treatment. You can follow your usual avocation, and also get Altgeld and the Anarchists.

Our telegraphic columns yesterday told the disgraceful story of the lawless demonstration around the base of the monument to the dead anarchists of Chicago. One of the mottoes inscribed on a shield borne in the procession was, "No Tyranny, No God, No Lord, No Slave." The speakers justified the conduct of the Haymarket bombthrowers and eulogized them as martyrs.

It is almost incredible, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the orators of the day were Fielden and Schwab, and it is stated that Neebe was present. These three anarchists were pardoned by Gov ernor Altgeld a few months ago on condition that they would obey the laws and make no more anarchistic speeches. They have now violated the terms of their pardon and if Altgeld wishes to serve the cause of law and order he will send them back to prison to work out the remainder of their sentences.

The consequences of the governor's risdirected clemency are beginning to take shape. Fielden, Schwab and Neebe have gone back to their evil ways, and are once more leading the organized ene mies of society. At a time when the frightful work of their bombs/in Barcelona is causing the anarchists to be hunted down in every country in Europe we find their most active members in Chicago publicly defying the kw and on the sympathy and protes governor of the state Chicago, ir re-electing Julge Gary, made it plain at they propose to suppress these out laws at any cost. Party lines were forgotten in that election, and the good neople of Chicago remembered that the issue-was between law and anarchy, and ranged themselves on the right side.

The voice of the people should be heeded by Governor Altgeld before he makes another break. He has done mis chief enough already, and he should now let justice take its orderly course without interfering with it again. A few more demonstrations like the affair of last Sunday will bring Chicago to griof The whole business should be nipped in the bud.

The Land's End.

If the population of our cities and towns grows during the next fifteen years at its rate for the past fifteen years the consumption of food products will overtake production. The farmers whe produce food crops will then be on top. The home market will purchase all they have to sell at good prices. The cotton planter, too, will probably find that the growth of population and the increased demand for his staple will bring him better prices.

With such prospects fifteen years head of us it will be of interest to sur the farming situation as it is at pres The arable soils of the United tates are nearly all occupied, and th ricultural development of the past rty years will be an impossibility in a future. Literally speaking, we have ne to the land's end. It will be said at the countries of Europe support a uch larger population to the square le than we do, and that we can emloy scientific methods and increase th ductive capacity of our lands. This ly be true of some localities, but it not apply to all. For instance, it recently shown in a statistical a e in The New York Sun that under intensive system of culture the yield acre of corn, cotton, wheat er crops was diminishing, instead of easing in Louisiana. From this is ald seem that the intensive system es not suit perhaps a large extent of southern territory.

Now, that we have reached the land's what are we doing with our cultied area? A writer in The Nation Ils attention to the condition of the rolina foot hills. The soil in that reon is washing down the slopes. There no sod to bind it, and as the furrow erally run downward the land is badly gullied and impoverished beyond redemption. When a field is worn out the owner cuts down a portion of the forest and proceeds to wear out more Some plantations that produced a bale to the acre fifteen years ago are now hopelessly sterile, and the valleys are becoming useless because the beds of the streams are filled up and a flood comes with every rain. The writer here quoted says:

e destroyed forests had been left stand-i properly cared for, their value would a inestimable. A North Carolina farmer, who worked forty years in destroying the fimber of a tract of 1.300 acres that he came into possession of, with the result of remain forest not only the most beautiful in this country and the richest in species, but one of the most valuable in the world. The land is rich up to the very erest of the ridges in many places, and it is this richness that chiefly gives the forest its luxurlance. This richness gives the rorest its invariance. This ricaness of soil gives the greatest temptation to improvident cutting; the more so since the people of the region are poor, standing in need of all the money they can get. As, however, the country is permanently impoverished by their chart sixther and in the country is permanently impoverished by their short-sighted and ignorant policy, it may be seen that this section furnishes or Dest fields for the dissemination of the princi-ples of good forestry.

In the Mississippi valley, in the northwest and on the Pacific slope the same disastrous policy is followed. The forests are wastefully destroyed and an area equal to that of several states has been ruined for farming purposes. Garden and Forest estimates that it will take a rest of a thousand years to restore the productive capacity of this vast territory.

So, when consumption catches up with production, it will be found that the latter cannot be stimulated to keep pace with the former. We shall be driven to the necessity of importing common sta ples, and our home farmers who have the good fortune to own productive land will have it all their own way. Can we stop the further waste of our limited area of farming land, and can we get a more abundant yield out of the territory now under cultivation? This is a big question, and it grows more pressing every year.

A Land Without Law.

Before mid-winter the inhabitants of the Cherokee strip will doubtless appeal to the country for relief. Two months ago 200,000 settlers rushed into the strip. They staked out farms and laid out town lots and built two cities of 6,000 inhabitants each. Thirty thousand persons settled in these two cities eight weeks ago, but 12,000 are all that remain now, and probably half that number would be glad to get

Perry, the metropolis of the strip, is a typical frontier town. For 6,000 inhabitants there are sixty saloons, forty-five gambling houses, two dance halls and 300 lawyers. The people live on the spoils taken from each other. Many of hem have spent their last dollar, but hey are still holding on, hoping to sell their town lots. There is no work and no credit, and one cannot walk the streets without being asked by men and boys for something to eat. It is just as bad in the small towns and out on the farms, which cannot be made productive for the next two years.

Practically, it is a land without law, and men shoot and rob with impunity. Thousands are too poor to leave, but every day processions of sad-faced, halfstarved women and children may be een on their way to the nearest railway stations to begin their return trip to their old homes. With money and food, and in some pid s without fuel and water, the settlers are a bad fix, and if they are not added they will starve.

Some day the strip will be occupied and made productive, but the people who have sought homes there during these hard times, expecting to build up a self-supporting community, have been bitterly disappointed.

A Tariff for Revenue Only.

The Nashville American, discussing the mportant question of free raw materials, urges that it would not be wise for the party to be "led off into the worst kind of protection-that which protects, by the admission of free raw materials, ne part of the country against another part, while protecting the manufacturers of free raw material in this protected ection by a tariff on foreign manufactures of similar materials." Our Nashville contemporary has undoubtedly caught a glimpse of the situation, but The Constitution is of the opinion that it is a mistake to discuss the tariff as a sectional question. The truth is, while it is a local question, it is very far from being a sectional issue. Let us endeavor to bear this fact in mind, for it is a fact that illuminates and simplifles discussion. Take, for instance, this very matter of free raw materials. A policy that would hurt the coal and iron miners of Alabama and Tennessee would also hurt those of Wisconsin and of Pennsylvania Therefore, while the tariff, as General Hancock so aptly put it, is a local question, it is not and never can be a sectional issue. It is a question not of protecting one section at the expense of another, but of discriminating against certain industries in favor of certain

Behind and beneath this lies the cen ral question whether the people ought to be highly taxed for the sole purpose of protecting industries that have been heretofore favored above other forms of industries. The people disposed of this latter theory in the extraordinary political revolution of 1890, after they had had a taste of the McKinley law, and again in 1892 when they endorsed the sweeping tariff plank of the democratic

We shall not pause here to consider what would have been the result of the recent elections—the result of democratic apathy-if the party leaders had proreeded promptly after Mr. Cleveland's nomination to carry out the pledges Such a considera made to the people. tion is interesting, but it is unprofitable, except in so far as it is coupled with a purpose and a desire on the part of the lemocratic leaders to rearouse the enthusiasm of those voters who routed the republicans in 1890 and again in 1892.

The Constitution is firmly of the opinon that the people of this country were thoroughly in earnest when they repudiated republican protection in 1890 and again in 1892. It believes that the party s bound to go forward with the work of tariff legislation in the spirit and purpose of the platform. This is, indeed. the main question at this time, but the considerations involved in the carrying out of this programme open up a wide eld of friendly discussion.

There arises this interesting question already touched on in these columns. whether the industries that produced the e unfinished productshall be sa or even discriminated against in those industries that hed product and work take up t it into ete products demanded by the It is an interesting ques tion are busines ate one, but it involves ations that cannot be avoide

the extension of the commanded by the platform? It seems to us that a free list necessarily involves the idea of a protective tariff. Under the McKinley law the free list cuts a very prominent figure. In any tariff discussion of moment between democrats and republicans we have observed that the attitude of the McKinleyites amounts to about this: "Don't bother with our tariff schedules; look at our free list, See what a happy thought it is!"

This is the republican idea-to enlarge the free list so that higher rates may be imposed on foreign made articles that come in competition with the product of he favored interests that have grown rich at the expense of the people. Under the McKinley law the duties laid on these articles are well nigh prohibitive. The result of this is that these duties, instead of adding to the revenue of the government and thus contributing to lighten the burden of federal taxation, are added to the price of the home-made product and are in the nature of taxes levied on consumers for the benefit of American manufacturers. When a protest is made on behalf of the people the McKinleyites point to the free list in order to show that their atrocious scheme of taxation has benefited the

We say, therefore, that the free list is merely the screen behind which the monster of protection hides. It is not a definite part of a tariff for revenue only. It is the concession which McKinleyism makes in order to deceive the people, and the people have not been deceived by it. Those who are sincerely anxious to carry out the demands of the democratic platform need not bother themselves about the free list. That is an appendage of McKinleyism. A tariff for revenue only, levied solely for the purpose of meeting the expenses of the government, is a level and an equitable tariff a tariff that discriminates against no nterest and in favor of none. To the adjustment of such a tariff the party must address itself.

Petty and Vicious.

The New York World, in endeavoring to account for the democratic collapse last Tuesday, makes a somewhat hypercritical attack on Mr. Cleveland. It alludes viciously to the "flagrant falsity of his pledges" in the Van Alen business, to "shameless spoils reveling" of the late assistant secretary of state, Josiah Quincey, and to the appointment of 'Tammany bosses" in New York state.

The Constitution is a democratic newspaper and it holds it to be the duty of a party newspaper to criticise a democratic administration whenever the necessity arises, but always on broad and whole some lines; not with the purpose of belittling, but for the purpose of strengthening. We thought that the emergency demanded an extra session of congress in March last to take up the measures of relief pledged in the platform. We thought that the administration was sowing the seeds of popular discontent when it insisted on carrying out only a small part of the financial pledge of the platform. Thinking thus, The Constitution protested and criticised, but only for the purpose of calling the attention of the administration to the expectations of the democrats.

The World, however, carries its criticisms to the extreme of captiousness. It strives to belittle where it should lift

Such a paper as The World, if it is really in touch with the people, ought to know that democratic apathy, which was a marked feature of the recent democratic collapse, was not the result of appointing democrats to office in New York or elsewhere. The people do not go about picking little flaws in an administrative policy or making petty complaints. On the contrary, they are patient and long-suffering and take large lews of policies and events. Nothing but democratic apathy gave the republicans their tremendous vicory last week, and nothing caused demcratic apathy but the long contest over the Sherman law and its nitiful ending. and the failure of the party to begin promptly the work of tariff reform.

To the extent that the administration responsible for these things to that extent it is open to democratic criticism. but no farther. The World's attack on Mr. Cleveland is petty, captious and vicious.

Atlanta and the World's Fair.

It is well known to everybody that the yorld's fair at Chicago was planned by he late John W. Root, of Atlanta, and that all the beauty and splendor of the White City originated in the brain of that great architect, although the details vere worked out by the hands of others. The statement is now made by The New York World that the man who first aggested the fair is William Euclid Young, a New York stock broker. Mr. Young formerly resided in Atlanta and vas at one time one of our prominent business men.

It will be seen that the world's fair was wholly an Atlanta idea, suggested and planned by Atlanta men. The next ime the country attempts an enterprise of similar magnitude its promoters will, f they are wise, visit this city of original deas and engage somebody to boss the

THE LEADING SENSATION.

New York Sun: The announcement of the Cleveland policy respecting Hawaii has come. It it not the American policy. It is not the policy of the United States government, or of people of this republic thank God! the policy of the democratic party with temporary power, to use that power this country to his personal conclusion, regardless of consequences in infamy or blood.

ress or consequences in many to nood.

Stripped of every special p.ea and specious pretext surrounding the essential fact, what is the purpose which Mr. Cleveland now declares, through the so-called report of his too subservient secretary of state? To crush the ed by us as an independent and responsible rernment; to emp.oy the armed pow-as well as the moral influence the United States to thrust back on a civilized people, American in upon a civilized people, American in their instincts and habits and aspirations, a barbarous monarchy, in the person of a vile and ridiculous person whom they have driven from the throne; to undo the work of a revo-lution which made Hawaii a republic, by means of a counter revolution by coup d'état planned in the white house at Washington and secretly but deliberately ordered by a presi-dent of the United States! dent of the United States!

That is the C.eveland policy. The American policy was settled long ago. It has never varied. It was never better defined than by James Buchanao, a democratic secretary of state, when he sped to the new-born republic of 1848 in France this assurance of America's sympathy for every people struggling out of the forms and traditions of monarchy: "It was with one universal burst of enthusiasm that the American people halled the late glorious revolution in France in favor of liberty and epublican government. In this feeling the resident strongly sympathizes. Warm aspireations for the success of the new republic are reatined from every heart. Liberty and order vill make France happy and prosperous. Her estines, under Providence, are now in the hands of the French people. Let them by their wisdom, firmness and moderation refut the slanders of their enemies and convince the world that they are capable of self-gov-ernment." That is the American policy.

New York Tribune: For the United States now to adopt the policy which Mr. Gresham is permitted to propose, and forcibly to put down this government and to set up tous preposter-norant and victous creatures whose preposter-norant and victous creatures whose preposterous behavior caused the revolution, would be to do all that Mr. Gresham charges against Mr. Stevens—all that and much that is worse. It would be to put down a good government and set up a bad one; to destroy republican instititions administered by intelligent and public-spirited men and to set up a monarchy administered by a woman to whose character silence is mercy and by a group of knaves and superstitions arranged in the set of the set stitious savages. It would be to blow our the of progress and Christian development in a land now moving briskly forward.

New York Times: The secretary of state's report upon the Hawai an business is a sharp could to the spirit of filloustering in this ountry, as well as a disclaimer of the action the Harrison administration. I get the information contained in both of any statements from the renort of Commissioner litatwell for 1882, not from his report of the "present year," as Mr. Wilcox suggests, for I co not think a report dated 1893 has been alled. After looking over the statistics carefully I see no reason for changing either statement. The attempt to make a "gross misrepresentation" in this particular is easily located.

Mr. Wilcox says: "I want Mr. McNabb to distinctly understand that, as the representative of my county, I had the same right to introduce the bill to abotish the teachers' county institute as any member of the general assembly had to introduce any bill," etc. The dignity of this declaration rather dazes me!

THE SUPERIOR COURT

If Relief Is Needed at All, It Is This Court That Should Have It.

SOME FACTS ON THE SITUATION

Stone Mountain Circuit Has Been Enlarged Since 1884.

KICKING HAS COMMENCED IN EARNEST

"It Is Outrageous," Says Mr. Dodd, an His Sentiments Are Echoed-Messrs. High, Chamberlin and Others Talk,

The history of the third division city court movement is interesting as it was sudden and unexpected. It was decided at a meeting of the bar that relief was needed in the superior court, and that some step should be taken to give that relief. A committee of five of the brainiest and oldest members of the bar was appointed to further the designs of eiation, and by common consent, Colonel N. J. Hammond was requested to serve on it as ex-officio chairman

e necessary remedy did not develop itself at the meeting held by the committee, and when the week had rolled around, there was no report ready to be submitted. A resolution, although the question of relief had been turned over to the committee for action, providing for a different line of reprocess was introduced. There was something about the change of procedure that inclined the committee as individuals to feel that they had been called upon to resign, and resign they did one after the other, Judge John L. Hopkins being the first to withdraw his name.

On a motion the committee was increas ed to fifteen, and the old members finally consented to remain with the addition of rather of fourteen, one of the members be mending a third division of the city court Had one of the member on the majority side of the committee voted with the minor ity, the result would have been a tieseven to seven. The creation of another superior court is advocated by some lawyers, and it is the opinion of all that relief is most needed in that court.

Superior Court Worse Oil Than Ever. is a nearly undisputed fact that the tendency of modern negation is a ways to increase the resort to equity. As a result, the chambers business aione of the judge of the Atlanta circuit is now sufficient to occupy at least one-third of his time. In 1854 the Atlanta circuit was comprised of Fulton, Denaib and Clayton counties To relieve the then overcrowded dockets, the circuit was divided. Fukton was made the Atlanta circuit, and Dekaib and Ciayton, the Stone Mountain circuit. The judge of that circuit was directed by the legislaof all three counties have increased won-derfully. In addition to this increase of population and litigation, the legislature has added a number of counties to the Stone Mountain circuit. This prevents the Stone Mountain circuit judge from giving as much time now as he could have, and did, originally, to the aid of the superior court judge

Thus it is seen that in 1893, instead of having two superior court judges in three counties, as in 1884 when the business was less, the same judges are obliged to serve Fulton, DeKalo, Clayton, Rockdale and Newton counties. And all this, notwith-standing the increased litigation in the three original. three original counties, composing now only a portion of the Stone Mountain circuit. It is true that by constant service Judge Richard Clark is still able to attend to the criminal branch of the superior court here.
The growing business of this circuit proper, and possible additions thereto, point to the time when he will not be able to do so.

All this in itself should be of sufficient force to show that the needed relief, or the need of relief, is confined to the superior.

not lie within the descretion of the lower court judges nor within the power delegated by the legislature to the city courts.

Association. He says:

"I am opposed to establishing a third division of the city court for the reasons given in the minority report of the committee of which I was a member. The judicial system of this county presents something unusual, and, with possibly the exception of New Orleans, no city in the south has anything like it. Our people are not more litizious than others in this country, and if we have a undue number of lawsuits, it is because there is a large amount of it is because there is a large amount of liaigation here on account of this being the capital, and suits in which the state is a party are located here. Our county already pays about one-eighth of the entire state tax, and if more courts are needed, the state should provide for them by giving us two superior courts. This miding us two superior courts. This might need some change in the constitution; if so that change should be made.

ing its two sinerior courts. This might need some change in the constitution; if so that change should be made.

"But as it now is we often have the two city courts, both branches of the superior all in session at the same time, and then they interfere to some extent, each with the business of the other, and we have had to resort to a system of checking cases.

"I have not the figures before me, but balliff hire and room rent for courts is exceedingly heavy, and at this time, in my opinion, ought not to be increased.

"The cause for the delay is, in my opinion, ought not to be increased.

"The cause for the delay is, in my opinion, in a great measure attributable to our methods of procedure. We take too much time to try cases. This is not the full of our judges or of our attorneys, but the old rules of pleading and practice ought to be changed by the levislature, and a good bill to accomplish that end has been prepared and presented to the members from this county."

When the matter of the establishment of this third division of the city court comes up before the legislature, it should be killed-killed dead and buried face downwards. It means saddling more taxes on the poor man in order to support some new lawyers. I'm opposed to it out and out."

Colonel W. M. Scott, the well-known real estte agent, is very much opposed to the establishment of a third city court.

"There are too many courts already," said he, "and upon several occasions I have been the victim of what is known as the checking system. For hours and hours, I have been kept waiting as a witness while the lawyers were wrangling in another court. This was repeated for two or three days in the expectation that the lawyers would finish quickly in the other court; but they didn't. Another matter of interest connected with the establishment of a third division is the expense to the taxpayers. I'm already burdened: I don't know how the others feel. More city courts would be a nuisance."

Mr. Harry L. Sohlessinger Doesn't Favor It. "I am certainly not in favor of a third division of the city court," said Mr. H. L. Schlessinger, the wholesale merchant of Brunswick sufferers' aid fame. "It would mean more taxes for the people, and, as I understand it, the people are already squirming under the load they are carrying now. I regard it as useless, also."

"Would Be a Nulsance" Says Mr. Wilson. "I can't see the use of a third division city court," said Mr. Will Wilson, "unless it is to add more taxes. There are already enough courts—enough to make a third city court a nuisance. I'm against it."

The taxpayers are pre-eminently against adding more expense to the county, and piling on to their burden of taxes.

Editor Constitution: I am glad you have tak en such a decided stand against more courts.

If this thing is allowed to go on, it will bankrupt this county. Having once been a county

In the irst place, there is no justice in treating tradare the lawyers, the receivers and the aud tors. They get nearly all the money and the creditors are left with the bag to ho.d-an empty bag at that. There could not be a better illustration of this than the Ryan case. 3. The number composing our juries should be cut down. The coroner's jury and the jury of try larceny cases should be cut down to ive. There is no reason why there should be more. I dearn there is a western state that only requires a sort of arbitration jury of five neu to try damage suits. Let our juries be cut down to a small number of men, whenever it can be done. This county is now paying an enormous amount of money for juries. Intend of wanting to increase our expenses, let er it can be done. This county is now paying an enormous amount of money for juries. Instead of wanting to increase our expenses, let us all go to work to cut down our expenses. I do believe that if our county board will go to work on the line above indicated and others that I wish I had space to discuss, a great saving of money and a still greater saving of time can be made, so that we will not want more courts.

The Committees on Finance and Legislation Convene Last Night.

THE QUESTION IS DISCUSSED FULLY

And It Is the Sense of the Joint Session That the City Treasury Should Be Eliminated from City Politics.

Shall the city clerk, the city marshal, the city treasurer and the other officers be elected by the people or by the general council?

That question was discussed at length last night in the mayor's office by mem bers of the finance committee, by Mayor Goodwin, by members of the council committee on legislation and by Hon. James F. O'Neill, one of Fulton's representatives in the legislature.

The discussion was productive of the views of each member of the two commit-tees, but resulted in nothing but the expression of opinion and the appointment of a subcommittee, which was entrusted with the duty of preparing a plan whereby the city treasury should be taken out of city polities.

At the last meeting of the general council two or three resolutions were introduced looking to the removal of the city treasury from the political field, and all of then were referred to the committee on finance and the committee on legislation. Among the resolutions, in addition to the one Mr Hill introduced, was one by Mr. Meador providing that, one month before the elec-tion of the city treasurer, bids should be received from banks having over $150,000 of capital, and that, after the treasurer was elected at the July election, the treasurer could place his money among the banks giving the largest interest, not less than four of them being considered. This esolution was followed by one from Mr. Stockdell calling for the removal of the city treasury from city politics wholly. The interest in the question was augmented a few days ago by the introduction in the legislature, by Mr. O'Neill, of Fulton, of a bill amending the city charter so as to make the election of all of the officers by the people, instead of by the council, as has been the custom since the charter was given the city of Atlanta. When Mr. Stockdell, chairman of the nwance committee, called the two committees to order last night there were referred, besides Mayor Godwin and Mr. O'Neill, Messrs. Beatie, Rice, Boyd, Harralson, Meador, Broyles and Hill. Mr. Stockdell, as chairman of the joint committee, stated the object of the meeting, and Mr. Hill was recognized. Mr. Hill referred to the bill which Mr. O'Neill had introduced in the legislature, and declared himself opposed amendment to the city charter which will move the city treasury from politics. I am in favor of anything which will accomplish that, but I am not in favor of the wholesale sweep this bill will make. There are officers who are elected by the council that should never go to the people. The city engineer, the city cierk, the ward physicians and the city assessors should not be elected by the people." Mr. Hill, taking that as his text, made a most interesting argument against any amend-ment which would change the city charter in that respect.

"But when it comes to the city treasury," said he, "I am willing to vote for almost anything that will remove it from the political pot. It has no business there and the sooner we get it away the better off we are.

Mr. Rice followed Mr. Hill and was of the same opinion. He declared that the city treasury was now the bone of contention among the people and thought that something should be done to bring about a change. Air. Meador was on the same line, He ad-hered to the removal of the city treasury from an election by the council and was willing to ioin in any movement that would accomplis-suggested or not.

Mr. O'Neill stated that he had introduced the bill in the legislature because the people of Atlanta has expressed themselves in mass meeting for it. He referred to the resolution introduced in the committee of 100 by Mr. Coller and its unanimous adoption by that committee calling for the election of all of the city officers by the people rather than by the general council. Mr. O'Nell stated that he was present for the purpose of conferring with the members of the council in order to secure their views upon the question as it was. The people of Affanta he wanted to was. The people of Attanta he wanted to serve, and he knew of no better way of obtaining the wishes of the people than by consulting with their representatives.

Mayor Goodwin thought the question might be epist. He was not in favor of electing at!

of the officers by the people, but he was of the ordinon that some of dicen might be elected by the people and some by the general council and that the change would result in good to the city. He thought that the city marshal, the city clerk, the city attorney, the city assessor and the treasurer should be elected by the people and that the others thould be elected by the general council. Mayor Goodwin's address was one full of good thought and was given out for that purpose. It was in no sense of the word an argument urged by him upon those present. out simply has views advanced for their con mayor on the question. He could not say just what was the best and was willing to liston to all of the information he could obtain on the subject.

Mr. Beatle wanted the treasury removed from the political pot but was undecided as to the best manner in which it could be accom olished.
"In order to secure the sense of this meeting," said Mr. Hill, "I move that we are in favor of no changes suggested in the bill introduced except so far as relates to the city treasury."

This was adopted.

Messrs, Goodwin, Beatle, Hill and Rice were designated as a committee to confer with Futon's representatives touching the bill. Mr. Hill then moved that it be declared the sense of the meeting that the election of the city treasurer should be left to the vote of the

This, too, prevailed. Messrs. Goodwin, Rice, Beatle and Hill were appointed a subcommittee of three to prepare a plan whereby the question of the treasury could be eliminated from city polivics. Thus committee will make a report to the joint committee on Wednesday afternoon and the report will be transmitted to the general council in special session on that day. The members of the joint committee will in the meankime confer with Furton's ren tives and see that the pending bill is left just where it is until the special session of the general council is held.

Lifetime Scholarship in the Peabody Normal School Conferred.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Albert Cox, the president of the Alumnae Society of the Girls' High school, received a letter from State School Commissioner Bradwell notifying her that a lifetime scholarship had been conferred upon the Alumnae Association of the Girls' High school.

As it has been heretofore there have been given twenty-two scholarships won by competitive examinations, to be competed for by all the girls of the United States who wished to try for them. The number of competitors for the scholarships last year in this state was no less than 150. It has been the custom of the Alumnae Associa-

The interest in football here in Atlanta is ruingly high.

There never was a time when the people of this city were more in the football humor than now, and this fact alone his sufficient to warrant that the crowds will be sage when Alabama and Tennessee meet each wher in the desperate struggle for supremacy. Mr. Henry Grady, of the Sewanee college, from this city, writes that the boys are wild with delight at the idea of coming to Atlanta, and declares that they are going to play such a game of football in this city next Saturday as was never seen on a southern gridfron before. He is enthusiastic as to the merits of the team at his college and says that white the Auburn team's reputation is of the very best this season, the Sewance men are more than hopeful of plucking victory from the Alabama students.

The great games of football held here last year are well remembered by those who went to the grounds every day and ran almost wild with rapture and delight at the very sight of the sturdy athletes roking and fighting over the big stripes of lime that marked the arena of battle. The games were all watched by great crowds with considerable interest and everybody who saw them and became familiar when the writer last saw him, and he then announced his intention of going to Cuba. "I am as fufile as the devil." he said, "and I am going to get out of the world. I am a total, abject, miserable failure, and fit for nothing but to cumber the stage."

He had a perfectly, ideal face of the romantic type, tinged with a melancholy that added to its refinement. The Alabama boys say they will bring over with them about 200 college boys to shout for their side, and it is going to be great fun, indeed, to see them and hear them give their college yell.

Quite a large constituency from the Sewanee college will also be on hand, and of course it is always half of a footbal, game to witness the guying and shouting given back and forth by the college men who accompany their men

THE STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, November 13. - The speculation on the stock exchange was characterized by a feverish and unsettled tone and the move-ment of pitces was very irregular. The pres-sure to sell was at times decidedly pronounced and was most marked in Sugar, the downward movement in which was assisted by the decline in the price of the raw material. The market was entirely in the hands of the room traders with the bears in control during the greater part of the day. There was no special reason for the depreciation in values which was effected, save that no very strong buyers were in the general market to absorb the offerings of the bears, who largely increas-ed the short interest, making periodical drives at the deading Industrials, St. Paul, Chicago and Quincy. The latter was sold upon re-ports of differences of opinion among the directors as to the advisability of declaring the regular quarterly dividend, in view of the rumored falling off in earnings. St. Paul did not yield appreciably to the bear attack, nor did it advance materially to a late covering vement. An order to sell some 20,000 shares of Northwest, sent that stock down very nearly 2 points. Mait advices from London were received giving expression to the disaffection of the foreign shareholders at the action of the Loulsville and Nashville direc-tors in acquiring the St. Louis Southwestern road, but it had no practical effect upon the value of the shares. London was not a factor value of the shares. London was not a factor in the dealings, appearing in the market as a small seller of Louisville and Nashville and buying small lots of St. Paul and Atchlson. There was some western selling of Chicago Gas and Boston sold General Electric and Burlington and Quincy. At the opening of business a heavy tone prevailed and the first prices recorded were down 1-4 to 1 per cent. In the early dealings a further decline of 1-8 to 1.2 per cent took place. Sugar and Chicago Gas were most prominent. Then came a rally of 1-8 to 1.1-4 in the general list, in which the same two stocks were leaders. New England, which had opened 1-4 per cent higher and reacted 3-4, rose 1.1-4, while Manhaitan fell off 2.1-2 per cent. Soon after 11 o'clock Sugar was subjected to a severe raid, dropping off 3.1-8 and the rest of the market 1-4 to 1.1-2 per cent. Delaware, Lackawanna, Tobacco, Chicago Gas, Northwest. market closed feverish and irregular and the feeble rallies established in the Industrials by the covering of shorts were not maintained. There was no pressure of stock except in St. Paul and Sugar, which were raded by the Paul and Sugar, which were raided by the room traders to catch flop orders. The weakness in General Electric was due to the offerings of long stock and the report that the company had been underbid in a valuable contract for motors and generators. Sugar was hammered in the final dealings and stop orders were caught. The collapse of the pool in raw Sugar is considered of benefit to the American Sugar Refining Company, and already there is a brisker demand for refined. NEW YORK, November 13.—The Liverpool market has today declined from 4-64d, to 5-64d, as compared with the final figures of Saturday. The lower range of values established is based laregly upon the promugation of increased crop estimates from two New Orleans authorities. The New Orleans market seems to be, in fact, sprofile of crop authorities, whose practice is to modify their views to some extent in accordance with the crop movement as it develops from week to week. Under this system it is of course practicable for such authorities to arrive at a correct estimate of the crop by the time it is gathered and marketed, but the probability of frequent change of front on their part is one that must be taken into consideration by those who would follow them. One of these authorities has today added about 200,000 bales to his previous estimate of the crop. His estimate about this time last year was about seven and a half million bales. Mr. Neill, who is the authority referred to, is rumored to be about ready to issue a new estimate of 7,900,000. The latter rumor comes from Liverpool and is not definitely confirmed as yet, but it is not improbable that it will be made public tomorrow or Wednesday. Considering the depression abroad, the New York market has shown surprising stability. It opened at a decline of about 2 points, so d off 3 to 4 points more, and by 1 o'clock had recovered nearly the entire loss. Receipts at New Orleans tomorrow are estimated at 18,000 bales, against 17,600 last year. Receipts at New Orleans tomorrow are estimated at 18,000 bales, against 17,600 last year. Receipts at the known interior towns today are large. Memphis being nearly double last year, while the fluctuation in the market up to 1 o'clock made comparatively marrow. The trading has been large and the quantity of cotton that has changed hands within a narrow range of values would seem to indicate the creation of a crop of at least 7,500,000 bales, and if the movement

New York, November 13.—(Special.)—Considering the weakness of Liverpoot and the heavy rece.pis, our market held its own pretty well today. The immediate future of prives will depend absolute, y upon receipts. It they continue to be as large as they have lately been the market will ge lower, and perhaps a good deal lower; if they become lighter prices will quickly rebound and the advance may be material and lasting. Our statement that we regard the market as somewhat topheavy with long cotton has excited the inquiry as to who held the short end of these long contracts. We answer that the cotton of which southern speculators are so heavily long has been sold to them main y on orders from parties in Liverpool as a hedge against purchases of spot cotton in the south. They preferred to sell for future delivery here rather than in Liverpool, for the obvious reason that the premiums or differences upon the winter and spring months are far more attractive for speculation sales fere than abroad. New Or cans operators, too, have been generally bearish the season, and have been carrying considerable short intes in this market.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, November 13.—After making the low price record at 61, December wheat railted today on smaller northwestern receipts, buying by shorts and exports, and closed 1-2 higher than on Saturday. Corn closed 1-8 lower Dats showed scarcely any change, being only 1-16 lower. Provisions ruled firm and closed with some slight gain for January delivery.

cnly 1-16 lower. Provisions ruled firm and closed with some slight gain for January delivery.

Wheat opened weak on an increase of 1,258, 200 in passage and heavy Duluth receipts. December opening was 1-8 to 1-4 off from Saturday's close. A large increase in the visible supply was expected, and this, with light seaboard clearances and discouraging cables drove the price downward until it toughed the lowest price on record for the monta. From that point the market improved with a few reactions. Minneapolis receipts were light, making the total northwestern cars about 500 less than the preceding Monday. Reports of export buying late Saturday were circulated. Near the close. December climbed to 62, but weak closing cables and the announced increase in the visible sipply landed it at the end 1-8 lower than that figure. December, which had closed Saturday at 61-3-8, opened 1-8 tol-1-4 lower, declined 7-8, reacted 3-8, went 1-4 higher, reacted to 62 cents and closed 1-8 lower than Saturday's close. It improved as wheat grew stronger, buf receipts being heavier than expected, sen'rid down again. A little trading caused a little reaction, but an estimate of 76 cirrs sent the price down once more. The market was weak at the close, May stopping 1-4 lower than on Saturday. Opening at 15-8, May sold 1-4 higher, lost 3-8, climbed 1-4, reacted 3-8 to 1-2, went up 1-4, and lost 1-8, closing 1-8 below its start at 41-2.

Provisions were firm and closed higher on light estimates on hop receipts for tomorrow. As compared with Saturday, January pork closed 10c, higher.

The leading futures ranged as foliows to Close today.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s tiraln Letter.

By Private Wire to B. W. Martin, Manager.
CHHCAGO, November 13.—Wheat opened with a continued weak feeling, but after the opening became stronger on a reported sale here of 135,000 No. 2 for direct export; also on smaller receipts in the northwest Cain-was generally expected. About 1,900 cars were looked for, and, although 1,411, the number received, was large, yet it had no sweight in the market. Gossip, at present is running largely in the manner in which our market should be judged. Conservative speculators claim that although in the past it has been proven highly remunerative to sell at a high price and buy at a low price yet at present the situation should be considered more than the price. The situation is undoubtedly bearish viewed from a large quantity sfaudpoint, but if the acreage of winter wheat is as small as is generally believed, as in the states already heard from, our next crop must be considerably under this. Some figures recently published in the consular reports shou a marked change now going on in the source whene Germany derives her wheat. Up to last year they depended on Russia principally for the supply, but since then, on account of our exportable surplus, the United States has been substituted. The fact that Germany and Russia are now barrieading their frontiers against each other assures us that the exports from this country to Germany will be large for at least a number of months to come. The visible supply increased 2,656,670 bushels, but this was about what was expected. Cash wheat was reported in good demand at an advance over Saturday.

The present difference of about 7 1-Sc. seems to meet the views of carriers. The close was stong with May 1-2c. over Saturday.

close was stong with May 1-2c. over Saturday.

Corn has ruled lower, the effect of government report not yet being passed off. There was a decrease in the visible supply and the supply on passage. Receivers are not so bearish, the crowd undoubtedly being influenced by recent reports received from huskers. The market closed flat.

Hogs were lower in the yards, but there appeared to be a good demand for January products, and the provision market closed higher.

To Start a Jerry McAuley Mission in This City.

WORK OF THE CONVENTION YESTERDAY

The Florence Crittenton Home Discussed The People's Church of Brooklyn. The Programme for Today.

The Barclay mission, on Marietta street, will likely be modeled after the famous Jerry McAuley mission in New York city Such, at least, are the present indications and a prominent citizen of Atlanta has offered to give $500 a year to this end. The effort to make it a mission of this kind grows out of the Christian Workers' convention and the presence in this city of Mr. S. H. Hadley, the superintendent of the Jerry McAuley mission.

Like the Jerry McAuley.

Mr. Hadley is a consecrated and earnest vorker, and among the first things he did after reaching Atlanta was to go around to the Barclay mission. He was visibly impressed with the work, and felt that Mr. Barclay had accomplished a great undertaking.

Thursday night, after the evening session of the convention, Mr. Barclay, accompanied by Mr. Hadley, went out to the mission, where interesting services were held, and several were converted. Services at the mission have been held every night since the convention opened, and much good has been the result.

At one of these meetings the proposition was spring to been the mission open every night, and model it after the Jerry McAuley mission in New York. One of the best citizens of Atlanta, whose name is withheld for the present, then came to the front. He was struck with the feasi-bility and the need of such a plan, and offered to give $500 a year to the support of the mission if the plan was adopted. Mr. Badley Interviewed.

Mr. Hadley was seen at the opera hous yesterday afternoon in regard to the pro-posed idea of converting the Barclay mison into a mission like that of the Jerry

"Yes," said he, "I am strongly persuaded that a movement of this kind should be started without delay. As it is, the mission is only thrown open once or twice during the week, where meetings should be held every night. Satan has no off nights, and mission should always be on the watch for the souls it may be able to bring into the kingdom of Christ. With the doors always open and a welcome light always streaming into the dark, hundreds of souls in Atlanta that are now weak and heavy laden would be induced to cast their burden upon the Lord."

"Do you think that a mission of this kind could be successfully carried on in Atlanta?" the question was asked.

"I do. most assuredly. Atlanta is a large and growing city. She has many noble qualities, but still there are many of her people who are lost in trespasses and sin. There is no telling how many could be saved by such a mission every year."
"It would cost a great deal of money to run a mission like the Jerry McAuley, would it not?"

"It would cost something, of course, but money that is spent for Christ is never lost. Watchful attention would be needed and money to run it. In the event a mission of this kind is started in Atlanta, the money. am sure, will be forthcoming. A wellknown citizen has already agreed to give $500 a year, and there are plenty of Christians, I know, who will give from $5 to $10 a month to keep up such a mission in this city. You may state, if you like, that any who feel interested in this work, and want to give, can send their names to Mr. B. B. Crew. I shall make an effort to start such a work before I leave for the north."

Mr. Hadley will, no doubt, have the support and sympathy of every Christian in Atlanta in his effort to start a Jerry McAuley mission in Atlanta.

Morning Session.

After the devotional exercises yesterday morning, which were led by Rev. William Coulston, of Evansville, Ind., the first speaker to address the convention, Mrs. A. L. Prindle, of New York. Mrs. Prindle is the matron of the Florence Crittenton home in that city, and her subject was the rescue work of that impor tant mission Her talk was full of interest and in a graphic manner she gave a full ac-

Mrs. C. E. Coffin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.,

Rev. G. W. Moore, of Washington, Rev. G. W. Moore, of Washington, a colored delegate, was next intro-duced and made a short talk to the conven-tion on the mission work in which he was

He deplored the failure of the convention

Colonel Hadley thought that a mission like those in New York should be established in Atlanta, and kent onen at all house. His idea was to locate it on Decatur street, but his brother, Mr. S. H. Hadley, was in favor of making the Barclay mission on Marietta street one of this kind. A local minister said if such a mission was stared he wanted to give the first $25. Mr. W. S. Withers, of the Salvation Army, arose and stated that Atlanta needed a rescue mission for the members of the city council. Mr. Tairkeild, of the col-ored university, was in favor of a rescue mission in Atlanta.

Helping Hand Mission.

Mr. Tracy McGregor, of Detroit, Mich., ext addressed the convention on the "Helping Hand Mission" of that city. Mr. McGregor is one of the youngest and orightest members of the convention. While a student at college he was called as father, who after

Rev. Frank Joseph, the colored missionary, was one of the speakers to address the convention on the subject of his work in the jails. He was listened to with close attention.

A duet "We are Going Home to Glory" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lamb.

At the close of the session a number of questions were asked. Among the number a delegate asked if a home had been started for colored girls.

Miss Wright made a spirited and earnest talk and was distinctly heard in every part of the assembly. Her talk was concluded with an earnest prayer.

A request was made at this point for Colonel Hadley to sing "I'm Going Back to Jesus," to the tune of Dixie. The request met with a prompt response from Colonel Hadley and the song was given, much to the delight of the congregation, who chimed in the chorus. The song was followed by a prayer for God's spirit to dwell in the hearts of Ren and women who were in the hearts of men and women who were or wicked, in the common idea of that ord, but who knew nothing of the love of

A Gospel for the Poor.

Rev. Charles Herald, of Brooklyn, X. Y., then discoursed on the Bethesda People's mission. He made an apology for reading his address by stating that he feared the earthusiasm of his subject might betray him into a waste of time. He had never read more than two addresses before and hoped the convention would parton his necessity. The last time he read his sermon he had much to say about the city council of Brooklyn. Several men waited on the outside of the church to do him bodily harm, but one of the prominent elders of the church was mistaken for the preacher and Mr. A Gospel for the Poor.

was unistaken for the preacher and Mr. Herald escaped uninjured.

Mr. Herald stated that he had given up evangelistic work to start a People's church in Brooklyn. Brooklyn was a beautiful city but unlearning winder. in Brooklyn. Brooklyn was a beautiful city but unhappily a wicked one. It was under the control of a boss and a ring and was not as a city given to the worship of God. In New York and Brooklyn, continued the speaker, the power of Satan is daily becoming stronger and stronger, and the influence of the church weaker and weaker among the poor. It is the duty of Christianity to look after those who are not able to build churches and the gospel should be preached to them, if expensive tabernabe preached to them, if expensive taberna-cles have to suffer. Mr. Herald stated that he had been connected with the People's church of Brooklyn for five years. At the church of Brooklyn for five years. At the time of assuming his pastorate the church was rather small. It was now one of the largest church organizations in the country, with a Sabbath school of 1,000 scholars. It comprises a temperance organization and a Christian Endeavor Society. The church was conducted after the plan of Mr. Moody, with whom Mr. Herald labored for a symptom of years.

The first essential of the People's church is to have it plain and simple. The common people do not want a grand cathedral, but modest and unpretentious place of wor The pastor of the church should be plain and outspoken. He should know the hearts of the people and should speak in the simple languae of their home tife. Such a preacher was Christ and his knowledge of human nature was the secret of his own power. He should be heaven-called and heaven-fitted, and should mingle in love, heaven-fitted, and should mingle in love, simplicity, and purity of life, with the people of his congregation.

the blessed and saving influence of Him who died for the redemption of the word. Oh, for more of these churches for the poor that the humble might be lifted, and the glory of the Lord advanced. The address of Mr. Herald provoked a number of questions in regard to his work in Brooklyn.

Mr. Torrey stated that he had been an elder in a People's church and the weekly collections were sufficient to make the church self-sustaining.

A voluntary prayer was then offered by one of the delegates for the promotion of Mr. Herald's work in Brooklyn.

At this point an offering was taken up while Mr. George C. Stebbins and wife sang a beautiful air in concert.

Work Amour the Parlstans.

Mrs. De Broen, of Paris, France, was the next speaker. She was presented to the convention by Rev. Mr. Scott, of Canada, who referred to the Christiah labors of this consecrated woman. Two sisters of Mr. Scott had left this country as missionaries to a distant land. One of them had returned, to sleep in her native soil, while the other was still laboring in the cause of her Redeemer. He felt a sympathy for the noble women of Israel who devoted themselves to the cause of the gospel. Then stepping up to the side of Miss De Broen he offered a beautiful prayer that her words might have the power of the holy spirit.

Miss De Broen he offered a beautifue prayer that her words might have the power of the holy spirit.

In a convulsive manner, which indicated the state of her feelings, Mrs. De Broen began her talk. France, she stated, had a population of 39,000,000 people. Out of that number there was searcely a million Protestants. France had once been a grand and powerful country. She was that no longer, because the gospel of Jesus Christ had been repudiated. Mrs. De Broen had labored among the French communists for nearly twenty-three years. She had no intention at first of engaging in the field, but she became enamored of the work. She beseched her hearers in the convention when they came to France not to come with empty pocket-books but to come with money to promote the preaching of the gospel. It was needed in that country, where so many were without the knowledge and the feur of God. Medical missions had been established among the poor of France, as that was the most effective way of reaching them. By giving them medicine and nursing them back into life the gospel was able to strike root in their hearts. The great need of the cause was more money and more prayers in its behalf. Mr. Torrey, at the close of the meeting, amounced that arrangements for an overflowing meeting had been made to occur at the First Presenterian church, at which Mr. C. N. Critter on and Mr. Charles Tillman would be present.

The meeting then adjourned.

One of the most interesting publications which has ever appeared in Atlanta, and which is now going the rounds of the convention, is a little book entitled "Ways and Means," by Mr. T. D. Roberts, of This little book, which is prefaced with an introduction by that great and good man, Dr. A. J. Gordon, of Boston, contains not only a graphic account of the author's life, but a full and interesting de-scription of the Boston Industrial home, which is one of the most active and remark-able institutions of the kind in the coun-

It began, as it were, in a dry goods box, the original tenement the a dry goods box, the original telement being only a plain and humble affair, but through the blessing of God and the skill-ful management of the superintendent, the institution has now property to the assessed valuation of $50,000. The aim assessed valuation of $50,000. The aim of the school is to train up men, first of all to be Christians and then to educate them in the direction of their aptitude or inclinations.

To take, as it were, a flash-light view of the home, on a certain night last year there were housed under the roof, the representatives of nine different countries, in the following order: American, 32: Canada and the provinces, 2: English, 11: Scotch, 1; Irish, 10: Dengraph 1: Sweedish, 11: Assection, 1: Sweedish ark. 1: Greek. 1: African, 1: Sweedish, 1. ian influences and while they are forget the temptations of the world, they forget the temptations of the world, they are taught to be more skillful in the earning of their respective livelihoods. If the institution is grand in its conception it is magnificent in its reality.

In speaking of the home and its work, Mr. Roberts has this to say in his report: "How many touching scenes have I witnessed where an aged mother or a widow lats brought her boy, leading him to the place of refuge where he might be guarded against the enemy of strong drink.

In 1888 Mr. Roberts was called to the superintendency of the Boston home. Nothing but the prayers of God's people saved him from a painful and premature death. As the superintendent of the home, Mr. Roberts with the help of his noble wife, as matron, has accomplished a glorious work, and one which has crowned him already in the waiting for a grander and higher coronation.

Men Who Have Been Reformed.

The convention is largely made up of men who have been reformed, and the story of their reclamation and the influences which led them to abandon their old ways is ingood that might be accomplished by such a narrative, that all of the cases of this kind cannot be cited.

One of the most prominent members of the convention, who belongs to this category of reformed drunkards, is Cononel H. H. Hadley, the superintendent of St. Bartholomew's mission. New York.

Colonel Hadley was a gallant soldier during he late war, and served in the union army first as a private, then as a captain, and finally as a lieutenant colonel. The temptation of the army, however, seized upon him, and he became a slave to the habit of strong drink. After the war he became a merchant, as that was the first thing to which he could turn his hand. He afterwards became a lawyer and the editor of a daily paper in the city of New York. The habit of drink, however, grew apace and he soon realized that he was a victim in very truth.

But here is the story in Colonel Hadley's paper in the city of New York. The habit of drink, however, grew apace and he soon realized that he was a victim in very truth.

But here is the story in Colonel Hadley's own language: "On the 26th of July, 1886, at midnight. I entered a saloon on the corner of Third avenue and One Hundred and Seventieth street and, with a lawyer, who was also a heavy drinker, had six brandy cocktails. I had been drinking terribly all day, but it seemed as if every drink made me strangely sober. I feared I would drop dead. The lawyer and I grasped hands and took a solemn oath that we would never touch another drop. I meant it, but had often meant it before. The lawyer drank again within a week and was buried last year. On the 28th I again went out to try the hopeless and oft repeated task of living without strong drink. My business took me down town, and on my way back in the evening, trembling in every nerve, with a thirst no man can describe, I concluded to call at the McAuley mission, at 316 Water street, and see my brother, who was superintendent, himself a saved drunkard, for I never failed to get sympathy at such times from him and also from my wife. He was delighted to see me and persuaded me to remain to the meeting. As I sat there listening to the testimonies I thought of how true he had been, for more than three years then, and what a hopeless drunkard he used to be: then a Scotch printer arose and told how he had been saved from the very gutter, and, pointing to his well-dressed happy wife and little girl, said they had been compelled to leave him, but now were restored, all because he had accepted Christ as his savior. All at once it occurred to me that possibly I might he saved, too, if I were to stop trying to do all myself, and follow Jesus and trust Him. And I determined right then to test His power and love. I stood up and told the condition I was in, and then coming forward with all my sin, I fell down on my knees at the bench in front, with a lot of other poor wretches and cried to God with all my heart for mercy and forgive-

That night Colonel Hadley was gloriously converted, and ever since that time he has been a useful and active Christian worker. He is one of the most brilliant and consecrated members of the convention, and is now the superintendent of St. Barthoxmew's mission in New York.

Mr. S. H. Hadley, the younger brother of Colonel Hadley, was also a drunkard and a man of the world, and was converted at the famous Jerry McAuley mission, of which he is now the superintendent.

Mr. John K. Roak, of Philadelphia, is another reformed drunkard. He is now an active worker and a prominent business man of the City of Brotherly Love.

Mr. C. H. Bernard, who was at one time a hard drinker, was also brought to himself in the Jerry McAuley mission, where Colonel Hadley was converted. Mr. Bernard is a thoroughly consecrated man and a Christian worker of unremitting zeal and fidelity.

Major George A. Hilton, of California, who preached one of the ablest sermons at the Christian church, last Sunday, ever heard in this city, and who is one of the most distinguished evangelists of this country, was converted about eighteen years ago in Washington city. He had led a wayward life, due largely to the spirit excited by his military operations, but after his conversion he became a diagent and thoughtful worker, and has been a great power in the spread and diffusion of Christianity.

A number of other examples might be cited, for the convention is full of just such cases, but for the present purpose these are decread or efficient. eemed sufficient.

You are in Atlanta attending the convention. Your object is a noble one—to relieve pain and suffering and to make bright and happy the lives of the people. You are aware that suffering exists throughout the word, and of course you would do anything that is honorable to relieve it: At least 90 per cent of the people die through the effects of dyspepsia. It is a fearful monster and has its clutches upon the lives of thousands upon thousands of people. In your efforts to relieve pain, to make the lives of the people happier and better, you will find that Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy is one of the most potent factors known.
